

Expanding Potential: Diversity in STEM Meet Ups

The Expanding Potential Program aims to help underrepresented groups in STEM fields to navigate hurdles to success. We organize workshops, meetings, and seed projects to propel innovative approaches to building diverse and inclusive research organizations.

synberc
Building the Future with Biology

Please join us at these two upcoming events:

Bystander Intervention

Monday, March 14, 5:30-7:00p

at Tupper & Reed

2271 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley

Finn Schneider of UC Berkeley's Bears that Care Program will share practical and empowering advice on how members of the STEM community can help protect one another from bias-related harm.

Confront the Situation
Alert Others
Redirect Attention
Engage Peers

Gender Identity Workshop

Thursday, April 21, 5:30-7:30p

Location TBD

Billy Curtis of UC Berkeley's Gender Equity Resource Center will present on foundational concepts and critical information about gender identity and trans*-related issues, which will allow you to better integrate trans*-inclusive practices into your work practices and department.

synberc.org/expanding-potential-meetups